ucational administration at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Dr. Schmidt taught in the Milwaukee public schools as a learning disabilities teacher prior to joining the state department.

David R. Shaffer (Ph.D.—Kent State University) is professor of psychology and chair of the Ph.D. program in Life-span Developmental Psychology at the University of Georgia. His research interests center on interpersonal communication and the growth of prosocial concern. He has published several recent articles in the Journal of Personality and the Journal of Personality and Social Psychology. His two latest books are Developmental Psychology (1985, Brooks/Cole) and Social and Personality Development (1988, Brooks/Cole). Dr. Shaffer has chaired the undergraduate program in psychology at the University of Georgia and has served as associate editor of the Journal of Personality, Journal of Personality and Social Psychology, and Personality and Social Psychology Bulletin.

Mary C. Starke received a doctoral degree in clinical psychology from the State University of New York at Stony Brook. She is currently associate professor of Psychology at Ramapo College. Her most recent articles have been published in Behavior Modification, BC Journal of Special Education, and Teaching of Psychology. She is the author of College Survival: Personal and Academic Skills. She has taught psychology for 16 years and practiced as a clinical psychologist in the New York and Washington, DC areas. Her major research interests lie in the areas of behavior therapy, stress, and freshman studies.

Robert Strom (Ph.D.—University of Michigan) is professor of Psychology in Education (College of Education) and Family Services and Human Development (College of Liberal Arts and Sciences) at Arizona State University. He has served as a Fulbright scholar, Danforth scholar, NATO scholar, and has received the Arizona Alumni Distinguished Achievement Award. His latest book is Human Development and Learning (with H. Bernard and S. Strom, Human Sciences Press, 1987). Recent journal publications appear in Educational & Psychological Research and the Journal of Instructional Psychology. Before moving to Arizona, Dr. Strom was a professor in the departments of Psychology and Education at The Ohio State University.

Otto Weininger is a professor of Educational Therapy at the University of Toronto and teaches Clinical Child Psychology in the Department of Applied Psychology, The Ontario Institute for Studies in Education. He has been attached to the staff of a number of institutions including the Tavistock Institute, London, England, and the Child Study Centre, University of British Columbia, Vancouver. His books include Play and Education: The Basic Tools for Childhood Learning (1979, C.C. Thomas), Out of the Mouths of Babes: The Strength of Children's Feelings (1982, C.C. Thomas), The Clinical Psychology of Melanie Klein (1984, C.C. Thomas), and The Differential Diagnostic Technique: A Visual-Motor Projective Test (1986, C.C. Thomas). He is presently editor of The Journal of the Melanie Klein Society and the International Journal of Early Childhood.

I. Phillip Young is an associate professor and coordinator of the educational administrative program at The Ohio State University. He received his Ed.D. from the University of Tennessee. Dr. Young has published a monograph addressing teacher selection as well as articles in Educational Administration Quarterly, Journal of Educational Equity and Leadership, Instructional Science, and the Journal of Research and Development in Education.

AUTHOR INDEX TO VOLUME 21

Albertson, L. M., & Kagan, D.M. Occupational stress among teachers, 1987, 21(1), 69.
Albertson, L. M., & Kagan, D. M., Dispositional stress, family environment, and class climate among college teachers, 1988, 21(2), 55.
Ashbaugh, C. R. See Kasten, K. L.
Apollonia, T. See Peck, C. A.
Bahr, M. W. See Chafel, J. A.
Bear, G. See Starke, M. C.
Beers, S. E. Epistemological assumptions and college teaching: Interactions in the college classroom, 1988, 21(4), 87.
Bettencourt, B. See Peck, C. A.
Blank, D. E. Factors influencing instructional decision making: Implications for pre-service teacher education, 1988, 21(3), 24.
Burton, J. K. See Read, W. M.
Buttery, T. J. Group clinical supervision as a feedback process, 1988, 21(4), 5.
Chafel, J. A., & Bahr, M. W. Observing social comparisons by young children naturalistically, 1988, 21(4), 49.
Christie, J. F. Play and story comprehension: A critique of recent training research, 1987, 21(1), 36.
Collis, B. A. See Yore, L. D.

Cooke, T. P. See Peck, C. A.
Dantonio, M., & Paradise, L. V. Teacher question-answer strategy and the cognitive correspondence between teacher question and learner responses, 1988, 21(3), 71.
Daresh, J. C. The professorship in educational administration: Emerging trends, 1988, 21(2), 22.
Duckson, Jr., D. W. Patterns of spatial awareness, 1988, 21(2), 30.
Dunham, R. M. See Portes, P.R.
Engelberg, R. A. See Evans, E.D.
Evans, E. D., & Engelberg, R. A. Student perceptions of school grading, 1988, 21(2), 45.
Fitzgerald, D. See Weininger, O.
Greenwood, G. See Parkay, F. W.
Hannafin, M. J., & Phillips, T. L. Perspectives in the design of interactive video: Beyond tape versus disc, 1987, 21(1), 44.
Harper, G. T. See Maheady, L.
Harrison, J. The effects of educational programs in art museums on the artistic perceptions of elementary school children, 1988, 21(3), 44.
Kagan, D. M. See Albertson, L. M.
Kasten, K. L., & Ashbaugh, C. R. A comparative study of values in administrative decision making, 1988, 21(3), 16.
Kay, P. M. See Sabban, Y. P.
Kidwell, J. S. See Portes, P. R.
King, F. J. See Portes, P. R.
Korinek, L. Questioning strategies in special education: Links to teacher efficacy research in general education, 1987, 21(1), 16.
Levstik, L. S., & Pappa, C. C. Exploring the development of historical understanding, 1987, 21(1), 1.
Kurth-Schai, R. Collecting the thoughts of children: A Delphic approach, 1988, 21(3), 53.
Lutz, F. W., & Lutz, S. B. Organizational structure and loose coupling in higher education, 1988, 21(2), 36.
Lutz, S. B. See Lutz, F. W.
Maheady, L., Harper, G. F., & Sacca, K. A classwide peer tutoring system in a secondary resource room program for the mildly handicapped, 1988, 21(3), 76.
McDonough, Jr., M. W., & Wolf, Jr., W. C. Court actions which helped define the direction of the competency-based testing movement, 1988, 21(3), 37.
Neville, D. D. See Searls, E. F.
Olejnik, S. See Parkay, F. W.
Ollila, L. O. See Yore, L. D.
Orton, R. E. The foundations of construct validity: Towards an update, 1987, 21(1), 23.
Palyo, W. J. See Peck, C. A.
Pappas, C. C. See Levstik, L. S.
Paradise, L. V. See Dantonio, M.
Parkay, F. W., Greenwood, G., Olejnik, S., & Proller, N. A study of the relationships among teacher efficacy, locus of control, and stress, 1988, 21(4), 13.
Paulet, R. O. Factors influencing successful counseling in selected distance education programs, 1988, 21(3), 60.
Peck, C. A., Palyo, W. J., Bettencourt, B., Cooke, T. P., & Apolloni, T. An observational study of "partial integration" of handicapped students in a regular preschool, 1988, 21(4), 1.
Peterson, K. D., Reliability of panel judgments for promotion in a school teacher career ladder program, 1988, 21(4), 95.
Phillips, T. L. See Hannafin, M. J.
Portes, P. R., Dunham, R. M., King, F. J., & Kidwell, J. S. Early-age intervention and parent-child interaction: Their relation to student academic achievement, 1988, 21(4), 78.
Proller, N. See Parkay, F. W.
Rasinski, T. V. Elementary grade readers' identification of levels of importance in expository texts, 1988, 21(2), 9.
Reed, M. W., Burton, J. K., & Vandett, N. M. Daly and Miller's writing apprehension test and Hunt's T-Unit analysis: Two measurement precautions in writing research, 1988, 21(2), 1.
Robinson, R. See Wedman, J. M.
Rury, J. L. The variable school year: Measuring differences in the length of American school terms in 1900, 1988, 21(3), 29.
Sabban, Y. P., & Kay, P. M. Distinction between essay and objective tests in assessing writing skills of underprepared college students, 1987, 21(1), 61.
Sacca, K. See Maheady, L.
Schmidt, J. See Young, I. P.
Seaerles, E. F. & Neville, D. D. An exploratory review of sentence-combining research related to reading, 1988, 21(3), 1.
Shaffer, D. R. Review of Colby, A., and Kohlberg, L. (all collaborators). The measurement of moral judgment: Vol. I: Theoretical foundations and research validation, Vol. II: Standard issue scoring manual, 1988, 21(4), 100.
Starke, M.C., & Bear, G. Grading in higher education: A survey of American systems and practices, 1988, 21(4), 62.
Strom, R. Grandparents and educational change, 1988, 21(4), 69.
Tanner, D. E. Achievement as a function of abstractness and cognitive level, 1988, 21(2), 16.
Vandett, N. M. See Reed, W. M.
Wedman, J. M., & Robinson, R. Effects of extended in-service on secondary teachers' use of content reading instructional strategies, 1988, 21(3), 65.
Weininger, O., & Fitzgerald, D. Symbolic play and interhemispheric integration: Some thoughts on a neuropsychological model of play, 1988, 21(4), 23.
Wolf, Jr., W. C. See McDonough, Jr., M. W.
Yore, L. D., Collis, B. A., & Ollila, L. Exploration of the predictive and concurrent validity of a global measure of cognitive development for grade 1 reading, mathematics, and writing achievement, 1988, 21(2), 62.
Young, I. P., & Schmidt, J. Effects of sex, chronological age, and instructional level of teacher candidates on screening decisions made by principals, 1988. 21(4), 41.